

4-20mA SIMULATOR USER INSTRUCTIONS

The Primex™ 4-20mA Simulator is an easy-to-use, hand-held test instrument designed to generate an adjustable 4-20mA signal from loop power. The output of the Simulator is adjusted across the full range by turning the adjustment knob. The 4-20mA Simulator can be used on a wide range of applications, provided the excitation voltage is within 12-24 VDC.
